News and Prayer Bulletin No 39

News

Following on from the last Bulletin, it has been encouraging to have had dialogue with other potential partner organisations for C4L. Two organisations remain interested, and detailed discussions have taken place with one in particular. However, due to other projects, further talks with them are unlikely for several months. In the meantime, numbers of individuals exploring the resources continue to rise: TCL1 41,000; TCL2 38,300; ABC1 27,900, ABC2 25,600; Connected video 123,300; Unconnected video 154, 100; overall downloads 684, 200; 12,000+ users of the website

Work has just started on a new media message project addressing the state of the world. It begins, 'These are not ordinary days and many people rightly have extraordinary concerns that affect all of us on this fragile planet.' There are references to the great fear and uncertainty in the world, the many disasters and the weather patterns to encourage people to connect to Christ. It continues, 'Many millions of Christians still regard the Bible as God's blueprint for life, relationships and hope in a chaotic world which is described as 'groaning'. The things we see in the world and society today are foretold throughout the Bible. If the proverbial balloon might go up in our lives, would you rather be like the ostrich with its head buried in the sand or look up and start smelling the coffee?' Quotes are used from Barak Obama, the Queen, the Pope and Billy Graham. It will be on YouTube entitled 'This Fragile Planet': please view and share ☺

Prayer - Please pray for. . .

- the impact on those who have watched the videos, especially those who are unconnected and disconnected
