News and Prayer Bulletin No 34

News

Responses were very positive following the 'Reconnecting the Disconnected' conference in Belfast in September, and the promoter wanted extra packs left to use with churches in Northern Ireland. The year has seen the completion of the conversion of all the printed materials to free online equivalents in anticipation of the relaunch of C4L Online at Easter next year. There has been a frustrating delay with the completion of the video for the second session of 'The Connected Life' and the C4L overview summary video, and the apple version of the Best Connections app. Despite not being able to go ahead with promoting the materials, as they have not quite been finished, numbers of visits to the website and video downloads continue to rise steadily. It is also planned to develop a feedback system on the website – it will be helpful to have more detailed information about who is using the resources and how! These are days in which we all need to press on against great opposition – please stand with C4L as it is seeking to go for it, for God, His people and the lost!

Praise - Thank God . . .

- for the smooth running of and good responses to the conference in Belfast – there was such an encouraging positive response and we pray for churches and individuals as they follow through
- that interest in the online materials continues
- for progress during 2015
- for finance to see through the work of 2015 – thanks to the Trusts and individual donors who have made this all possible
- for the support of the trustees – Ian, Peter and Steve
- for the excellent work of the wider team involved in many different areas
- that He continues to bring this, His 'project' and message, through to ever-increasing impact

Prayer - Please pray . . .

- for the app developer, who had bad news about his health recently
- for the video producer, who has recently suffered a close bereavement
- that plans for 2016 will run according to schedule
- for applications to Trusts that have given support to help us get to this place, and it's such a lot! Pray that they will see the great potential to reach many thousands of people in this technological but very uncertain age. There are now well over 6000 'users' in over 120 countries plus 2,500 separate downloads of the new short videos. That's a lot of people - praise God!
- for wisdom and finance as we plan the next key bit of the jigsaw in 2016
- for strength, faith, grace and perseverance for each of us to press on with every confidence in these dark days, and all the more as we see the day approaching
